The Spirit of Nouvelle-Aquitaine

Nouvelle Aquitaine is the biggest French region, both varied and surprising. Nature, wide-open spaces, dynamic cities, legendary beaches – whatever you are looking for, here you are sure to find your ideal holiday destination.

The region is evocative of prestigious names such as Bordeaux and the Cité du Vin museum, Lascaux and the Dordogne valley, Biarritz and the Basque country, Poitiers and Futuroscope, Cognac, Pau and the Pyrenees, and Limoges with its arts and crafts, among many others.

Moreover, our region has exceptional natural assets, conducive to the practice of outdoor activities throughout the year: 4200 km of cycle routes, 750 km of coastline to practice surf, 88 golf courses divided between vineyards and ocean and five regional parks for hiking. Our region also vibrates to the rhythm of rugby thanks to its 6 Top 14 clubs and the warm welcome of its practitioners throughout the country.

Nouvelle-Aquitaine is also the birthplace of golf in France, with the very first golf course in continental Europe opened in Pau in 1855.

Come and see the primary golf destination in France!

Our wide-ranging, rolling landscapes provide fans of nature with some truly exceptional settings, including wonderful views over the ocean and mountains, and some exceptional natural features.

From the Basque coast to Limousin, via Bordeaux, the Dordogne valley or the islands on the Atlantic coast, visitors can combine golf with our cultural and gastronomic heritage, at the heart of THE destination not to be missed for a certain French way of life, THE destination for tradition and original experiences and THE destination for an innovative, varied, sustainable and resolutely future-oriented offer for visitors.

Whether you're a beginner or an expert golfer, we hope to see you soon on the greens of Nouvelle-Aquitaine!

The Biarritz Golf Destination Contract

DESTINATION BIARRITZ

In 2014, Biarritz Tourism brought together the Departmental Tourism Committees of Pyrénées-Atlantiques and Landes, the tourist offices on the Basque coast and in Pau, the Tourism Committee for the region formerly known as Aquitaine, the Biarritz and Landes Golf Pass offices, the region's golf courses and schools, Atout France, the Air France Flying Blue Golf programme and accommodation providers to launch a project aimed at promoting golf overseas, and making Biarritz and the region a major golfing destination.

The project won state backing, leading to the signature of the "Biarritz, Destination Golf" contract. The aim is to promote the 16 golf courses in the southern Landes and Pyrénées-Atlantiques regions to a wider public and to golf professionals internationally: in the media, magazines, to specialised tours operators, especially in the run-up to the Ryder Cup 2018.

In 2018, out of 22 state destination contracts, the "BIARRITZ Destination Golf" contract was one of just four that were renewed for three years.

After three years, the results of the "Biarritz Destination Golf" contract are very positive, and have shown a capacity to mobilise all the partners – golf courses and schools, tourist organisations – in putting into practice shared actions and promoting them internationally.

The contract has led the region welcoming 40 international golf journalists for visits, and to stays being scheduled by over 60 tour operators and travel agencies.

With the Biarritz Basque Country brand, recognised as one of the 20 French brands enhancing the image of France overseas, Biarritz now has all the assets needed to promote the region among golfers all over the world.
